Educational Exhibits Tour Virginia

REPRINTED FROM EMPHASIS, A PUBLICATION OF THE HIGHWAY SAFETY DIVISION OF VIRGINIA

Trailer Features Drinking, Driving

A new 25 foot exhibit, the Safety Trailer is touring Virginia to emphasize the lives lost, injuries caused, and problems created by drunk drivers.

"Our major highway safety problem in Virginia and across the nation is the drunk driver trying to drive but killing and injuring in the process," said John T. Hanna, Director of the Director of the Highway Safety Division.

"Each year in Virginia approximately 600 lives are lost because of drunk drivers -- one half of the total fatalities in our state. The safety trailer is taking this message across the state to help make people more aware of the problem."

Visitors to the safety trailer can test their driver reaction on a prototype of a digital automobile ignition system and view a 16 second movie which shows some of the problems experienced by drivers who lose their license to drive.

The trailer features a map of Virginia which highlights locations of accidents caused by drunk drivers. Information materials and statistics on drunken driving also are provided.

Co-Editors Note: If you must drink, don't drive. You may save your life as well as that of your fellowman.

Mrs. Charles F. James

Mrs. Charles F. James (Ada McCain James) became a resident of Appomattox when her husband opened a drug store here on Church Street in 1917. Mrs. James was a native of Livingston, Alabama.

From the beginning of her residence in Appomattox she became active in civic and religious activites. She was a devoted and dedicated member of the Appomattox Court House Presbyterian Church and was especially active in the Women of the Church organization.

Mrs. James was never too tired or occupied with other things to give her attention to those in need of her services.

She was also active in the P.T.A. of the Appomattox High School and served as its president. She was a long-time member and officer of the local chapter of the Eastern star and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. James had an engaging personality and a wide circle of friends. Her home was always the essence of hospitality and good taste and she, herself, was a kind, thoughtful and loyal friend. Her memory is dear to our hearts.

Her death is a great loss to many people, both here at Appomattox and in her home in Epes, Alabama.

We extend to her family our sincere sympathy and express our appreciation for the splendid services she always rendered in any worthy task she undertook.

ions were reviewed and school trips approved.

The board gave approval for several trips by various groups. Included are a trip to Monticello on May 12 by fifth graders, Pamplin Elementary; Future Homemakers of America of Appomattox County High School to Brookville on April 20; a trip to the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park on April 24 by fourth graders of Appomattox Primary School.

Also, a trip by Jr. FHA Chapter members to Brookville High School on April 20; a trip to Westover Dairy and Sentry Oaks Farm by second graders of Appomattox Primary School; a trip to Washington, D.C. by the Latin Club in May.

supervisors' meeting of the agenda. Stewart said that a resolution passed recently by supervisors is not clear to the Jaycees. The resolution states that anyone wanting to appear before the board notify the clerk by Monday of the week of the meeting in order that the agenda can be published Thursday in the county newspaper. Stewart says that this leaves no time for Jaycees to request a night meeting on a subject of importance to them or to request leave from jobs so that they can appear at the day-time meetings. He asked for clarification of the matter.

Board chairman O. W. Martin, Jr. said, "No one will be turned down who comes to see the board." Southside district supervisor John C. Cole suggested that a calendar of supervisors' activities be published and the board said that a conference would be held with Commonwealth's attorney Harry G. Lawson as to the wording of the resolution about meetings.

Warren Taylor, county forester, reported to supervisors that aerial spraying of the county-owned "Poor Farm" property would be $344. He said that James Carrico's bid for the pine and hardwood, pine pulpwood and hardwood pulpwood was accepted and he is to begin cutting on May 15.

E. L. McCraw, assistant resident engineer, Campbell-Appomattox residency, asked for and received names of men selected by supervisors to be road viewers. The viewers will meet Wednesday, May 17 at nine a.m. to consider secondary road additions and improvements, based on a public hearing during the March supervisors' meeting. Names approved include Carter Martin, Southside district; Lloyd Richardson, Clover Hill district and John Gunter, Stonewall district.

Dr. J. B. Kinlaw, Central Va. District health director and Fred Kezee, his assistant, presented the 1972-73 county commitment budget to the board.

Local commitment increase over last year is $1,694 with this year's total local commitment $10,044 as compared with last year's $8,350. This budget includes the services of a Public Health Nurse "C" who will rotate among the counties in the district, Amherst, Bedford, Campbell and Appomattox and will aid in the nursing program in addition to the present county health nurse, Mrs. Brenda Richardson.

County funds will also be used to pay for an additional position, a sanitarian supervisor "A". This position is held by G. M. Perrow, who Dr. Kinlaw said, would be here once a week or oftener to work with county sanitarian Robert O. McFaden.

Dr. Kinlaw asked supervisors to consider the fact that the present health department facilities are inadequate and to keep this in mind for future planning.

The Pastor Speaks

REVIVAL II Chronicles 7:14 "If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Notice first the people to whom Jehovah speaks. He said, "If my people which are called by my name." The only people that can really experience Revival are Saved people. You can't revive that which is dead. It is necessary that you have something that is alive in order to Revive it. But that which is dead must be resurrected. That's why Paul speaks in Ephesians 2:1, "And ye hath he quickened who were dead . . ." Those that are outside of Christ must be quickened. Those that are in Christ need Revival from time to time.

The second thing we notice in our text is the proposition, "If my people --- shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways." In order to have genuine Revival there must be a turning from sin. there must be a prayer. there must be a seeking God and there must be a turning from our wicked ways.

The third thing that we notice in our text is the promise. "Then will I hear from Heaven and will forgive their sins and heal their land." God's people that are called by his name will humble themselves and pray and genuinely seek the face of Christ, and this means to seek the will of God and the mind of God for our lives, than we can truly expect Revival within our own hearts.

Attend Annual TB Meeting

Mrs. Lewis E. Wells, and Dr. Charles W. Scott, representatives to the State Board of Directors, Mrs. Harry E. Welsh, of Lynchburg, Arthur G. Crews, of Saxe, Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Munoz, board members and Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, executive director of the Central Virginia Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, attended the joint annual meeting of the Virginia Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Associations, the Virginia League for Nursing, and the Virginia Respiratory Disease Conference in Richmond in April 19-20. The two-day meeting featuring authorities on tuberculosis and respiratory diseases from all over the nation, stressed patient care of those afflicted with tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Principal speakers were the Honorable Ernest E. Mason, circuit judge of the First Judicial of Florida and past president of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, and Mrs. Anne Kibrick, Ed. D., dean of nursing at Boston College and president of the National League for Nursing. Judge Mason spoke on "The New Role of the Voluntary Agency," and Dr. Kibrick discussed, "The Extended Role of the Nurse Today" at the joint dinner meeting on April 19

Preceding the dinner meeting, Mrs. Margaret Sparrow, director of community nursing service for the National League for Nursing, explained "League Planning for Patient Care" at the VLN business meeting in the afternoon.

On Thursday, April 20, the morning session emphasized the latest on treatment of tuberculosis. Moderated by Seigina M. Frik, R.N., director of nursing advisory service for NLN, a panel of four discussed different phases of treatment. Mary Louise Atkinson, R.N., assistant chief of the evaluation service division of the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, explained "The Current Dynamics of TB;" Peter Barlow, M.D., staff physician of the Pulmonary section at the Va hospital in Cleveland, described treatment in the hospital; Beverly Ann Marvin, R.N., supervisor of the TB clinic of the Denver Department of Health, talked about treatment in the clinic; and Lillian Peyton, R.N. advisory nurse of the Virginia Health Department's bureau of TB control, discussed treatment in the community.

William J. Pfeifer, executive director of the Heart of America TB-RD Association in Kansas City, Missouri, addressed professional TB-RD workers at the VRDC luncheon meeting on Thursday.

Hurricane Tragedies

NEW YORK—Eighteen Americans lost their lives in hurricanes in 1967, the Insurance Information Institute reports. Hurricanes have killed more than 5,000 persons in the last 50 years, including 1,836 in 1928, the worst year on record.

Seat Belts Save Family

...cause her young son insisted on it, Mrs. Jim Baxter fastened her seat belt securely as the family headed to Appomattox from a trip to Tennessee. That seat belt saved her life when the front section of the station wagon fell off. Mr. Baxter's Station wagon made a sharp right turn, struck a metal sign and finally came to rest not far from where the front section had dropped to the pavement. Mrs. Baxter credits her secure seat belt from preventing her being thrown from the vehicle, since the door on the driver's side did spring open as a result of the freak accident. State Police and Rescue Squad workers pronounced the accident "unbelievable" and all four, the driver and three young passengers escaped serious injury.

R. D. Baxter, five years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baxter had a bad dream just a day or so before Mrs. Baxter, R. D., and two other sons, John and Ben set off for a trip recently to Tennessee. He dreamed that their "car" – a station wagon fell apart. On Interstate 81, near Abingdon, Va. the bad dream came true. Mrs. Baxter was driving at a moderate speed and suddenly the engine, front wheels, in fact, almost the entire front section of the wagon fell off the main chassis, leaving her with a steering wheel but nothing to steer.
